

TDS® is building a fiber network in Ashwaubenon

TDS, based out of Madison, recently announced plans to build a fiber-optic network to bring super-fast internet, plus TV and phone services to Ashwaubenon.

What makes fiber different? Because it uses pulses of light to deliver information, a fiber-to-the-home network offers substantially faster upload and download speeds—plus more bandwidth—than other technologies.

Construction on the project is expected to start this spring and will become available to customers in phases. Watch for information on door hangers and in your mailbox as build activity gets underway.
